FIRE HORROR.

Awful Catastrophe in Troy, N. Y., Monday.

Six Story Collar and Shirt Waist Factories Destroyed.

Thirty Lives are Believed to Have Been Lost as a Result.

A Terrible Scene of Panic After Fire Had Broken Out.

Three Hundred Girls Employed in Factories at the Time.

Great Conflagration Started by Carelessness of a Boy.

TROY, N. Y., Feb. 17. Fire broke out in the collar factory of J. Stetheimer & Co. on River street in this city this afternoon. The greatest consternation prevailed among the 300 girl employes.

Five girls jumped from the fourth story windows. One was caught in a net by the firemen and the other four were killed by the fall. It is believed that there are several other girls in the building.

The fire at 6.30 had assumed enormous proportions and was beyond the control of the firemen.

The furniture warehouse of W. H. Reynolds and the Western Union building will be destroyed.

The whole block from Broadway to Fulton street, which includes a large number of immense warehouses and stores, is probably doomed to be destroyed.

The weather is extremely cold and the firemen are laboring under the greatest difficulties.

Bulletin, 7.30 P. M.—It is now believed that at least 20 girls have perished in the fire. Four are known to be missing. The fire is spreading rapidly and threatens to become one of the most disastrous in the history of the city.

A Later Dispatch.

The fire started at 5.30 in J. Stetheimer & Co's shirt waist factory and Vanzandt & Jacobs' collar factory, in the same building. There were 300 girls at work in both. The flames spread so rapidly that the narrow stairway which was the only exit outside of the fire escapes in the rear were almost immediately cut off.

During the panic that followed five girls jumped from the windows, three to their death, and many others were injured. Four are missing, and 17 injured, four of whom may die.

Among the injured are three firemen. It is believed by everybody that about 20 girls were overcome before they reached the street and were buried in the building.

People familiar with the building place the total of lives lost at not less than 30.

A restaurant and saloon were on the ground floor and there were several other minor enterprises carried on in the building.

The fire started in the fifth story, in the part occupied by Stetheimer & Co. About 5.25 a little boy attempted to light the gas in the department where goods of which shirt waists are made are cut. He climbed up on a table and lighted the gas. Then he threw the match still burning to the floor and it ignited a pile of scrap cambric. In an instant there was a crackling of fierce and uncontrollable flames and the room was filled with smoke.

Miss Lillie Kreiger at the risk of her life rushed through the different departments of the buildings and warned the employes. Nothing but the bravery of volunteer firemen saved her from death. When the employes in the fifth story realized that the fire was beyond control a scene of great panic ensued. The girls rushed about the room, some found their way down the stairway, and others succumbed to the fire and smoke.

Some jumped from the dizzy height of the River street windows. The scene was the most exciting ever witnessed in Troy. There was a continuous panic, and in the rush for places of safety many were injured. The crush on the stairway was frightful. About 200 men and girls attempted to escape by this exit at the same time. Many were trampled and some were left unconscious on the stairway.

The spread of the flames was remarkable. There was a strong wind blowing and almost immediately the building was afire from top to bottom.

The fire extended into the big structure north and gutted it. The Western Union building was burned out.

It was not until four hours after the fire started that it was under control. The loss will probably reach $400,000.

Three girls killed by jumping were almost unrecognizable when picked up, so fearfully were their heads crushed.

IN CONGRESS.

Mr. Davis Speaks on the Monroe Doctrine.

He Gives His Views on the Application and Extent of It.

House Calls for Information Regarding Sale of Bonds, Etc.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. In the Senate today the resolution reported on the 30th of January by Mr. Davis (Rep., Minn.) from the Committee on Foreign Relations relative to the application and enforcement of the Monroe Doctrine was laid before the Senate and Mr. Davis made an address in support of the resolution.

Mr. Davis said the United States under the Monroe doctrine and under the resolution assumed no responsibility for the conduct of South American or Central American states toward foreign nations; none of those governments was to expect exemption from the chastisement of war by any foreign power. The intervention of the United States was to take place only when an act threatened or proposed by a foreign power might be dangerous to the peace and safety of the United States.

Mr. Davis declared that part of the President's special message committing this government to accept any agreement which Venezuela and Great Britain between themselves might make could not and would not be acceded to. Such a policy struck at the very life of the Monroe doctrine. Mr. Davis said the United States could not permit Spain to offer Cuba, or any portion of it, as security for a loan from Great Britain. He did not believe there would be war as an outcome of this dispute.

At the conclusion of Mr. Davis' speech the Senate took up the military academy appropriation bill. When all committee amendments were disposed of an amendment was offered by Mr. Vilas (Dem., Wis.) for the appointment by the President of two additional cadets at large for each State—aggregating ninety cadets, in addition to the present number.

Mr. Allen (Pop., Neb.) urged that appointments for each State should be in the hands of its fathers. Without reaching a conclusion the Senate adjourned.

In the House.

A resolution from the Ways and Means Committee was agreed to, calling for information as to the proceeds of sales of bonds, etc., and from what source the treasury derived money to meet the expenses of government expenditure over receipts.

The House in committee of the whole considered the agricultural appropriation bill. After discussion the House adjourned.

FIRE RECORD.

A Loss of $50,000 in Boston.

BOSTON, Feb. 17. Fire this afternoon in the five story brick block, 55 South street, caused a loss of $50,000.

The building was occupied on the ground floor by Hermann Beher & Co., paper board dealers; the 3 floors above by Albert Trostle & Co., curriers and tanners; top floor by Miles, Kennedy & Amback for storage. The building was owned by the J. W. French estate, and is insured for $30,000. All the occupants are well insured.

IMPORTANT CASE.

United States Court Decides it is Right to Send Decoy Letters in the Mails.

BOSTON, Feb. 17. The Supreme Court of the United States through a mandate just filed in the United States district court in this city has affirmed the decision and sentence in the case of George Goode, the Roxbury letter carrier who last May was convicted of stealing letters and sentenced to the Charlestown State prison for three years.

Goode was detected by means of two decoy letters prepared by Chief Inspector Boynton and the case is considered important by the postoffice authorities inasmuch as the Supreme Court by this decision recognizes the right to send such letters.

JOHN B. CORNING'S WILL.

How Estate of Half a Million is Divided.

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 17. The will of John B. Corning, whose estate is estimated at $500,000, was admitted to probate today. He leaves $5,000 to Hartford hospital; $5,000 to his wife and $3,000 a year for life; $2,000 a year for life to his son, Frederick A. Corning, of London, Eng., and the balance of the estate to his son, John J. Corning, of New York. In case of J. J. Corning's death without issue the property will be divided into three parts, one to go to the Hartford Orphan Asylum, one to the Hartford Hospital, and one to Mary I. Corning and Helen Corning Root.

TWO DECISIONS

Handed Down in United States Court at Hartford.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 17. Judge Townsend, in the United States court, handed down two decisions to-day. In the suit of Wm. J. Matheson against John Campbell, both of New York, a motion for the introduction of new evidence has been made by the defense. Judge Townsend denies the motion and orders an injunction and accounting. The complainant sued for infringement of process of manufacturing "napthal," a black dye.

In the case of Thomas A. Andrews, of Gainesville, Texas, against Landers, Frary & Clark, of New Britain, Judge Townsend found for the defendants.

In October, 1894, Andrews made a contract with the New Britain firm to manufacture faucets, which he invented, and to pay him 25 cents per dozen for that privilege. Peck Bros., of this city, were permitted to make the same faucet. Andrews recently brought suit against the New Britain firm, alleging it was making two other kinds of faucets based on his patent, upon which he was paid no royalty. He brought suit for an injunction and accounting. Judge Townsend decided that the patent was not infringed and dismissed the complaint.

SCHOONER ASHORE.

Had Cargo of Hay From Searsport.

BOSTON, Feb. 17. During the heavy northwest wind this morning the three masted schooner Lizzie Lane, Capt. Classan, of and from Searsport, Maine, with a cargo of 140 tons of hay for Boston, anchored off Spectacle Island. Her anchors dragged and she was forced ashore on the island. She lies in an easy position on a mud bottom and will doubtless be floated.

Later—Schooner Lizzie Lane was floated without injury at high water.

FIRE IN BIDDEFORD.

A Tenement House Damaged Considerably.

BIDDEFORD, Me., Feb. 17. The two story double tenement house on King street, owned by Daniel Cote, occupied by the families of Joseph Tanguay and Noe Labelle was damaged by fire tonight. The cause was a defective chimney. The loss is about $1,500. The building was insured but there was no insurance on the furniture.

LUMBERMEN MEET.

Election of Officers of Log Driving Companies.

AUGUSTA, Feb. 17. The Moosehead Lake, Dead River and Dead River & North Branch log driving companies and the Moosehead Lake Navigation Company held to-day their annual meetings and elections of officers in this city. Many prominent lumbermen were present. To-morrow will be held the annual meeting and election of the Kennebec Log Driving Co.

DEFAULTED BONDS.

Mr. Morgan Makes Demand for All of Them.

Secretary Carlisle Takes Matter Under Advisement for Time.

It Is Not Believed that Any Considerable Number Have Defaulted.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. J. Pierpont Morgan has made a specific demand for all the defaulted bonds of the recent issue under his blanket bid of 110.6877. Secretary Carlisle has taken it under advisement but will not be able to render a decision until to-morrow or next day as the treasury is not yet advised of the number of bonds in default.

It is known officially that William Graves and associates of New York have defaulted to the extent of $4,500,000. Their bid was 115.3801.

It is not believed that any considerable number of other bond bidders have defaulted.

PORTLAND, Feb. 17. A Maine Central passenger train was derailed here this evening. No one was injured.

TALKING OF FIGHT

For Friday Now, but Nobody Expects it Even Then.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 17. A conference regarding the Maher-Fitzsimmons fight was held here to-day. Maher was not present. A long wrangle took place about postponing the fight.

Fitzsimmons got mad and shouted at the top of his voice: "Your man is not in condition to fight. He is a other stiff like Corbett. You are putting up a bluff." "Not much," responded Connolly. "Maher is not afraid to meet you in the ring or anywhere else."

"You want to crawl out," suggested Julian.

"Yes, they want to crawl," yelled Fitzsimmons. "They are a lot of d——d curs."

Then turning to the throng on the other side of the railing he yelled louder than ever: "This fight is off, gentlemen, I won't fight. They never intended to fight in the first place. Now, boys, I give notice I'll fight that big stiff Corbett at any time. Let's have a cigar." With this the pugilist stalked out to the street. Somebody shouted: "Three cheers for Fitz," but the response was feeble.

Wrangling over giving up the forfeit money continued and finally Julian made a proposition that it be left to the vote of five men to be selected by Connolly. While the committee were debating Fitzsimmons returned, and repeated that he would not fight Friday. Julian succeeded in getting him to withdraw the statement temporarily.

The committee stated that under the articles neither man was entitled to the forfeit. Connolly that made a proposition that the Friday plan be considered. Julian agreed explicitly and stated that Fitz would fight Friday. A $20,000 forfeit was placed in Stuart's hands this afternoon.

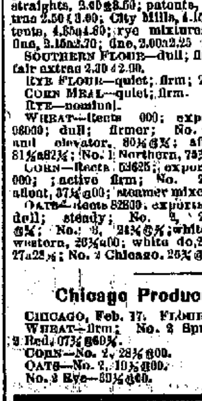
Larger Sale of Hood's Sarsaparilla Than of All Others.



Druggist Chas. A. Fowler, South Main Street, has been in business at Bangor, Me., for ten years, and had been clerk for two years. He is secretary of the Maine Pharmaceutical Association. He testifies: "Hood's Sarsaparilla is altogether the best seller, and its sales exceed those of all similar preparations combined. There has been an increase in its sales during the past year. It holds a high place in the estimation of the people."

Druggist Chas. A. Fowler.

Curtis & Tupper have been in business at 2 Strickland block, Kenduskeag Bridge, Bangor, Me., for four years. Mr. Curtis had been in business at Bar Harbor 10 years and in the drug business since 1862. "Our sales of Hood's Sarsaparilla," says Mr. Curtis, "are as much as of all similar preparations. The sale has been steady, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is popular."

INTERESTING TO LUMBERMEN.

Suit for Payment of Lumber, Question Being on Survey.

SOUTH PARIS, Feb. 17. In the Oxford supreme court to-day a case of wide interest to lumbermen was heard. Rand & Tibbetts sued Dudley, agent of the Poland Paper Company, for the value of the difference in the survey on lumber. Plaintiffs contracted to furnish poplar and assert they were paid according to a secret survey, less than the actual quantity. The defense was that according to the contract the payment would be based on the company's survey. Plaintiffs were notified of the date of the survey, their absence being their own fault. The case will be concluded to-morrow.

IN THE NICK OF TIME.

Sailors Rescued from a Sinking Schooner at Sea.

PORTLAND, Feb. 17. Steamer Blakemore, with salt from Sicily, arrived here to-day covered with ice. Aboard the Blakemore are eight men who were rescued last Thursday night near Halifax. They are the crew of the schooner Clifford, Captain McCullough. Clifford was a two masted schooner of 129 tons. She was bound from New York to Halifax with 180 tons of corn. The trip was uneventful during the first six days out. On the seventh, however, the pumps became choked with corn, causing the cargo to settle down and the vessel to slowly sink.

"We worked hard," said the mate, "and did our level best to save the cargo, but at last the whole thing resolved itself into a question of saving our own lives.

"For three days we were in a decidedly anxious condition, and had begun to think that there was no hope for us and that we should go down. But finally the Blackemore hove in sight. She saw our signals of distress, put out her life boats, and took us on board. The steamer arrived just in time, for exactly four hours later our schooner went down."

The Clifford's crew are all natives of Nova Scotia and as soon as they were landed this afternoon it was their intention to consult Mr. Starr, deputy British consul at this port, and make arrangements for being sent to Halifax on tomorrow morning's train.

MRS. MANLEY DEAD.

Wife of Well Known Maine Man Passed Away Monday.

AUGUSTA, Me., Feb. 17. Susan Cony Manley, wife of Hon. Joseph H. Manley, died in this city this afternoon after a short illness of pneumonia. She was born in Oldtown, Me., March 5, 1839, the daughter of the late ex-Governor Samuel Cony. Four children survive her, Samuel Cony Manley, Mrs. Chase Mellen, of New York, and Misses Harriet and Sidney Manley. The funeral will be private at the residence in this city Thursday morning.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Porte Suspends Action in Case of Missionary.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 17. The Porte has agreed to comply with the request made by United States Minister Terrell to suspend action in the case of Mr. Knapp, the American missionary, whose arrest upon charges of sedition was recently attempted at Bitlis, until Mr. Knapp arrived in Constantinople.

Mr. Knapp with his wife and three other ladies will leave Bitlis for this city as soon as the snows will permit.

England has no Knowledge of Russia's Invitation.

LONDON, Feb. 17. In the commons today George N. Curzon, parliamentary secretary for foreign affairs, stated that the government had no knowledge that Russia had been invited to occupy and police the Turkish territory of Asia Minor. Such acts on the part of Russia without the assent of the powers, he said, would be a violation of the existing treaty.

Gladstone Still Believes in Unity of England and France.

PARIS, Feb. 17. Mr. Gladstone has written a letter to the Figaro in which he recalls the circumstances that forty years ago he declared in the House of Commons that France and England contemplated relations beyond those of ordinary friendship and that their cordial union assured the peace of Europe. He has never altered the opinion he then expressed, he writes, but his retirement from public life prevents his further declaring England's policy.

Base Ball Notes.

"Shea had a notion he could pitch last year," said Willie Mains the other day. "He had a good slow ball," he said, "and a good speedy curve, and he knew he could fool 'em." The opportunity came at Pawtucket when they got hitting Williams so. Williams came out and Shea went in. The first man whacked the first ball for a two bagger. He hadn't got his wind before the second man whacked it for another, and the air got full of base balls. Eight men in succession hit for two base hits, and they made eight or nine runs. Shea came out and he never talked pitching afterward.

Lewiston Journal: When we think back into the gloaming of base ball and call to mind our last year's yield at this time we laugh. "Slat" had dug up Buck Sullivan and Tony H rt and was getting his lines to gather in that swift creature, Mike Lehane. Phil Vian had been ensnared at large salary and Mike Bradley was coyly in hiding, waiting for $135 a month. They had those red suits that (we lift a hymn of praise) have seen their best days. Poor old "Slat." He never had one idea about getting a club. He was a man in a trance most of the time. A bob-sled on bare ground was speed compared with him as a hustler. To hear them tell about this new team of ours in new suits seems like a dream. Just think of it—black suits, white belts, white Chicago hats, white stockings. We demur at the white stockings but are open to conviction. Then, there will be the letters "Lewiston" on the breast, and then at length the flag on the pole saying, "pennant, 1896."

A Republican State Convention

—WILL BE HELD IN—

City Hall, Portland,

THURSDAY, APRIL 16th, 1896,

At Eleven O'clock A. M.

For the purpose of selecting six candidates for electors of President and Vice-President of the United States, and four delegates at large and four alternates to attend the National Republican Convention, to be held at St. Louis, Missouri, on Tuesday, June 16th, 1896, and transacting any other business that may properly come before it.

The basis of representation will be as follows: each City, Town and Plantation will be entitled to one delegate, and for each seventy-five votes cast for the Republican candidate for Governor in 1894, an additional delegate, and for a fraction of forty votes in excess of seventy-five votes, an additional delegate.

Vacancies in the delegation of any City, Town or Plantation can only be filled by a resident of the County in which the vacancy exists.

The State committee will be in session in the reception room of the hall at nine o'clock on the morning of the convention, for the purpose of receiving the credentials of delegates. Delegates in order to be eligible to participate in the convention must be elected subsequent to the date of the call for this convention; and delegates, under this call, should not be elected to the State convention to be hereafter called for the purpose of nominating a candidate for governor.

All electors of Maine, without regard to past political differences, who are in sympathy with the sentiments expressed in the call of the Republican National Committee for the Republican National Convention, are cordially invited to unite with the Republicans of the State in electing delegates to this Convention.

Per order Republican State Committee.
JOSEPH H. MANLEY, Chairman.
BYRON BOYD, Secretary.
Augusta, Maine, Jan. 28, 1896.

Presidential Electors Must all be Chosen in State Convention.

HEADQUARTERS
REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE,
AUGUSTA, MAINE, JAN. 28, 1896.

To the Republicans of Maine:—Prior to 1892 two Presidential electors at large, corresponding to the two United States senators, were nominated in State convention, and the remaining electors, corresponding to the members of the United States House of Representatives were nominated by the several congressional district conventions.

The passage of the Australian Ballot law entirely changed the procedure. Under the law, all conventions are a portion of our election system, and this ballot act requires that candidates to be voted for by the Voters throughout the whole state must be placed in nomination by a Convention representing no less a constituency than the whole state. Hence, all the candidates of a party for Presidential electors must be nominated in State Convention, and I have therefore included in the call six electors.
J. H. MANLEY, Chairman.

Republican Caucuses.

The REPUBLICAN voters of the city of Bangor are hereby notified to meet in caucus at

on THURSDAY, the 20th day of February, 1896, at 7.30 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Mayor to be voted for on the ninth day of March, 1896.

WARD CAUCUSES.

The REPUBLICAN voters are also requested to meet at the polling places in the several Wards on FRIDAY EVENING, February 21st, at 7.30 o'clock, to elect a member of the Republican City Committee for each Ward, and to nominate candidates for Aldermen, Common Councilmen and Ward Officers.

Per order of the Republican City Committee,
FRED A. PORTER, Chairman.
GEO. M. FLETCHER, Secretary.
Bangor, February 15th, 1896.

The G. A. R.

The Department of Maine, Grand Army of the Republic, opened its annual encampment in the city last evening, when a meeting of the Council of Administration was held. Bangor extends a hearty greeting to the old veterans. May their session be a pleasant and profitable one. The boys who wore the blue are always welcome visitors in the Queen City.

Broken Pledges.

Promises are easily made and as easily broken. This statement is especially true of the Democratic party. For the long term of years in which the Democrats were in the minority the party posed as the particular champion of the people. Every act of the Republicans was denounced and the people were told that if they were looking for real prosperity the one thing necessary was absolute Democratic control. These specious pleas had the desired effect in 1892, when, accepting the Democratic promises in good faith, the people entrusted the direction of the affairs of the country to that party. It is now possible to take account of stock and determine how the pledges of the Democrats have been fulfilled.

Take the agricultural interests, for instance. Every farmer will remember how the Democrats denounced the last Republican tariff law as hostile to his interests. He was told that he was being robbed simply to fill the coffers of the bloated monopolists, a condition that would be changed once the Democrats had the framing of the laws. The Democrats did frame a law only to have it condemned by a Democratic President as a perfidious and dishonorable measure, and by the Democratic press as a "bill of sale" to the Sugar Trust, the gigantic monopoly of the age. The Democratic orators who condemned the McKinley law and favored the Gorman-Wilson law insisted that they were legislating in a way that would not only protect the farmer, but increase his sales abroad.

A comparison of the statistics of the Treasury Department shows how the Democrats have failed to make good their pledges. In all the great articles of farm production, such as wheat, barley, wool, hides, tobacco, meats, flax, breadstuffs, hops, hay, hemp, cotton and others, the importations have largely increased under the new law, while in the same class of articles the exportations under the new law have decreased. These statements, it should be remembered, are based on official figures furnished by the Treasury Department covering the years most nearly touching the date at which the change was made from the McKinley law to the Wilson law. In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, the last fiscal year under the McKinley law, the exports of products of domestic agriculture amounted to $628,318,773. In the year 1895, the first calendar year under the Wilson law, the exports of products of domestic agriculture amounted to only $545,714,375. This was a falling off of $83,000,000 in the amount exported. That the new law actually discriminates against the farmer is shown by the fact that but 67 per cent. of the total exports of 1895 under the new law were agricultural products, while over 72 per cent. of the exports in the last year of the McKinley law were agricultural products.

The Vote Against Free Coinage.

Analyzing the vote in the House on the free coinage substitute for the bond bill the Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune says that if every member had been present and recorded the vote would show the following standing in the several States:

	No. of electoral votes.	Votes for free coinage.	Votes against free coinage.

An inspection of the table shows that all the Representatives from eleven States—Arkansas, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington and Wyoming—should be recorded in favor of free coinage. These States have altogether forty-six electoral votes. It appears from the same table that all the Representatives from sixteen States—Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, West Virginia and Wisconsin—should be recorded against free coinage. These States have in all 175 electoral votes, or 129 more than the eleven States whose Representatives favor free coinage. Two States—Florida and Tennessee—appear to be equally divided. These States together have sixteen electoral votes. The majority of the Representatives from each of seven States—Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Texas and Virginia—favor free coinage, the totals being fifty-one for and fourteen against it. The total electoral vote of these States is eighty.

It also appears that the majority of the Representatives from each of nine States—Illinois, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska and Ohio—are opposed to free coinage, the totals being seventeen for and ninety-one against it. These nine States together have 126 electoral votes, or forty-six more than the seven States, a majority of the Representatives of each of which favor free coinage. It will be observed that the difference is exactly equal to the total number of electoral votes of the eleven States whose Representatives are all for free coinage.

The Representatives in the LIVth Congress were elected in November, 1894, and in some of the States the silver question was one of the chief issues involved. The result was the election of 256 men who are opposed to free coinage and who are at least supposed to know how the voters of their respective districts stand on that question. If that be the fact then a number of the United States Senators who voted on February 1 for the free coinage substitute which the House of Representatives buried under an overwhelming majority—a majority which would have been increased by thirty-one votes if the vote of every member had been recorded—did not truly or faithfully represent their States when they did so.

Who are they? Every Representative from the State of Indiana stands against free coinage. Senators Turpie and Voorhees voted for it two weeks ago. Five of the eight Kansas Representatives are against free coinage. Senator Peffer voted for it. Nine of the eleven Kentucky Representatives are against free coinage. Senator Blackburn was paired in favor of it. Four of the six Representatives from Louisiana are on record against free coinage. Senator Blanchard voted for it. Thirteen of the fifteen Representatives from Missouri are on record against free coinage. Senators Cockrell and Vest voted for it. Five of the six Representatives from Nebraska are on record against free coinage. Senator Allen voted for it. The Representative from North Dakota, who was elected as an anti-free silver man in 1894, voted against free coinage. Senators Hansbrough and Roach voted or were paired in favor of it. Every Representative from the State of Pennsylvania—thirty in all—is on record against free coinage. Senator Cameron voted for it.

The free coinage substitute was carried in the Senate by a vote of 42 to 35—a majority of seven votes. A transfer of only four votes from the negative to the affirmative would have defeated the substitute. All the Representatives from Indiana, North Dakota and Pennsylvania are against free coinage, but five of the six Senators from those three States—more than enough to turn the scale—chose to misrepresent their States on that issue.

[Detroit Evening Journal.]

Maine is Envied.

Maine is cutting a pretty big figure in the distribution of public offices. Besides having a native son in the chair of the Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court she has a native son in the chair of the Speaker of the House, a native son chairman of the House Committee on Ways and Means and only a day or two ago the Senate elected Senator Frye, another native son, President pro tem of the Senate. This singular combination resulted from no special favoritism, nor is it the product of political accident. Chief Justice Fuller was appointed to the position when he was a resident of Chicago, and no political seer could have divined that eight years later three other sons of Maine would hold simultaneously three of the most distinguished positions in the civil service of the government.

The reason that three Maine men now hold the keys of legislation in both branches of Congress is because Maine sends to that body men of ability, to serve not a single term or perhaps two terms, but to continue to serve until death or disability incapacitates them. The personnel of the Maine delegation in Congress is rarely ever changed except to fill a vacancy created by promotion to higher office or by death. So it happens that when men of training and experience are wanted Maine is always prepared to furnish them.

Maine would not enjoy this monopoly of the great public positions of honor if other States would follow her example in returning to Congress year after year those members whose fitness and skill qualify them to legislate wisely and well. Unfortunately the Congressional honors allotted to other States are divided and partitioned off as political spoils which must be conferred by rotation upon party enthusiasts irrespective of merit and worthiness.

Maine is naturally envied by each and all of her sisters but she richly merits the distinction conferred upon her. If the envious ones will profit by her example it will be quite unlikely that we shall ever again confront the condition now confronting us in the distribution of high places of honor.

THIRTY years' observation of Castoria with the patronage of millions of persons, permit us to speak of it without guessing. It is unquestionably the best remedy for Infants and Children the world has ever known. It is harmless. Children like it. It gives them health. It will save their lives. In it Mothers have something which is absolutely safe and practically perfect as a child's medicine.

Castoria destroys Worms.
Castoria allays Feverishness.
Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd.
Castoria cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic.
Castoria relieves Teething Troubles.
Castoria cures Constipation and Flatulency.

Castoria neutralizes the effects of carbonic acid gas or poisonous air.
Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or other narcotic property.
Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep.
Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk.
Don't allow any one to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose."
See that you get C-A-S-T-O-R-I-A.

It is an Acknowledged Fact

FIRE IN BOSTON.

Express Office of Old Colony Division Destroyed.

Messenger Boy Badly Burned—Thought Fire Caught in an Oil Room.

Boston, Feb. 17.—The express office of the New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R. Co., Old Colony division, on Kneeland street, in this city, was burned this forenoon, about 300 feet of the outer train house destroyed, and 40 feet of the main depot shed damaged.

Six passenger cars were practically destroyed and several badly damaged. The main depot containing the waiting rooms and offices of the system was not injured. The loss is estimated at $5,000. James Pyer, 17 years old, a messenger for the New York and Boston despatch, was badly burned on the head, face and hands while trying to save some of the goods from the office of the company and was taken to the hospital.

The fire is thought to have originated in the oil room, adjoining the rooms of the despatch company. Train service was abandoned during the fire.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Annexation of Cuba To United States Would Imperil the Country, Says Mexican Newspaper.

Mexico City, Feb. 17.—El Tiempo, a Conservative organ, which has been exceptional among Mexican newspapers in showing no sympathy for the Cuban cause, contends that the annexation of Cuba to the United States would imperil this country, and that the American people, after taking the island, would continue the process of absorption in Spanish America until Mexico would be surrounded by United States territory.

El Tiempo has been foremost in pointing out the danger of what it terms the Pacific conquest of Mexico by the United States.

Other journals, all liberal in politics, deny that the United States has any such design and that the aid of the American people in ridding this hemisphere of European control is greatly to be desired.

The Mexican Herald says France and England, in their attempts on Venezuelan and Brazilian territory are driving the European wedge into the solid body of the continent.

Russian Protectorate in Corea.

London, Feb. 17.—A despatch from Shanghai to a news agency says that the action of Russia in Corea points to the establishment of a Russian protectorate over that country.

Rebels Change Position.

Madrid, Feb. 17.—A despatch from Havana to the Imparcial says: "The rebel forces are changing positions, Gomez working his way westword and Maceo marching eastward. Gen. Weyler is indifferent to the movements, intending to attack the rebels everywhere."

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDACY.

What Wm. R. Morrison Says Concerning It.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—William R. Morrison reached this city last night. Speaking of his Presidential candidacy, he said: "Whatever my aspirations as to the honorable leadership of a great party, I would not snap my finger for the Presidential nomination of a divided and demoralized party.

"There must be evidence of party cohesion around well-settled doctrines of the Democratic party before I would accept a nomination. Let there be a fight in the convention. A fight in a convention is not dangerous if a proper party spirit prevails, but it should always be a fight in which it is understood that antagonizing interests shall abide the results. No man in his senses would go before a convention with any other understanding."

"When asked what he considered the prospect of reaching a condition of mutual tolerance in the Democratic party councils, Mr. Morrison said: "I cannot state it as a fact, but I have received the impression and I believe it to be so, that the most pronounced silver Democrats in the south are gradually reaching the conclusion that, for higher party and public reasons, they should be willing to yield something to party unity.

"I believe the silver Democrats in Missouri and Arkansas are more bitter and implacable than any other of the old slave states and in Arkansas the condition grows largely out of the conflicting senatorial ambitions of two able men, who are outdoing each other in organizing a sentiment. In the other southern states the conviction, I believe, is growing that concession is necessary to save the party."

NEW POLITICAL PARTY

Organized at Meeting of Laboring Men at Omaha.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 17.—A new political party was organized Saturday night at the meeting of laboring men at Labor Temple. No name was given to it, but 150 men signed the resolutions which declare that the three larger parties are for the rich alone, and that the laboring people should form a party and unite themselves. A call was made for a meeting at Omaha in May for the purpose of adopting a platform and nominating a ticket for the national election.

This move is thought to be the result of the visit of the once famous Gen. C. T. Kelly late of the commonweal army.

LARGELY PROFESSIONAL.

Traders at Stock Exchange Working for a Reaction.

New York, Feb. 17, Wall St.—The speculation at the stock exchange was in the main professional this morning and the room traders almost to a man were working for a reaction. They were assisted by the sold out bulls who are trying to get back their stocks at a lower range.

London cables reported American securities slightly lower there, but when the St. Paul ran off fractionally here the foreigners were the first to buy the shares.

The decline in prices ranged from ¼ @¾ per cent. and was most pronounced in leather preferred, Manhattan, Tenn. coal and sugar. Toward 11 o'clock the market improved and a rally of ¼@1¼ per cent. followed.

Noon—Money on call 4@4½, prime mercantile paper 6@7; sterling exchange is steady, with actual business in banker's bills at 486¼@½ for 60 days and 487¾@488 for demand; posted rates are 487@488½; commercial bills, 485¼@486; clearing house statement: Exchanges, $78,783,089; balances, $3,502,051; stocks were strong and in better demand after 11 o'clock.

WENT TO PIECES.

Schooner Majestic on Ledge off Biddeford Pool.

BIDDEFORD, Feb. 17. Schooner Majestic, 74 tons, Capt. C. L. Butler, bound from Rockland to Salem with a cargo of lime, went ashore on the ledge off Biddeford Pool last night, and went to pieces. The Pool life saving crew rescued her men.

A later despatch says Capt. Butler lost his bearings and, with his crew, came in their own boat. At ten o'clock last night they left the schooner anchored, but this morning she was nowhere to be seen, not knowing whether she struck Whaleback Ledge and foundered or went adrift.

SAFELY LANDED.

Crew of Fishing Schooner Gertie Winsor Ashore.

HIGHLAND LIGHT, Mass., Feb. 17. Fishing schooner Gertie Winsor, Capt. Enos, of Provincetown, from the fishing banks, in trying to make a harbor went ashore at three o'clock this morning near Race Point life saving station. Her crew of seventeen men, all of them more or less frost bitten, were safely landed by Capt. Fisher and the crew of the Race Point station, after a heroic struggle with the elements. It is intensely cold, and the sea is covered with a thick vapor. The vessel is well up on the beach and is apparently all right. She is owned by John Adams, of Provincetown.

IN ASHES.

Farnsworth Memorial Hall at Bridgton.

BRIDGTON, Feb. 17. Farnsworth Memorial Hall, one of the four fine buildings of Bridgton Academy at North Bridgton, took fire Saturday evening and was entirely destroyed. It was erected in 1886, at a cost of $8,000. It was insured [illegible]. The hall was used in a [illegible]

DUPONT'S SEAT

In the Senate of the United States.

Contest From the Last Election in Delaware.

Washington, Feb. 17. Mr. [illegible] Oregon, chairman of the Senate [illegible] tee on privileges and [illegible] to the Senate today, as a [illegible] highest privilege, the majority [illegible] that committee on the claim of H. A. Dupont, Republican, to be [illegible] senator from the state of Delaware [illegible] the term commencing Ma[illegible] succession to Mr. Hig[illegible]

The deadlock in the legis[illegible] ture and the peculiar [illegible] with Mr. Dupont's [illegible] case one of especial [illegible] Mitchell's report states that [illegible] ing of the joint assembly [illegible] in Delaware on the 9th day [illegible] the final vote was taken [illegible] given in the committee's [illegible] nounced as follows:

H. A. Dupont 15, [illegible] ward Addicks 4, and [illegible] nell 1. It is conceded [illegible] says the report, and [illegible] that if this contention [illegible] each of the 30 persons [illegible] joint assembly and [illegible] vote for senator was [illegible] member of the legislature [illegible] Delaware and under [illegible] as would deprive him [illegible] seat in such assembly [illegible] for senator, then Mr. [illegible] elected senator and [illegible] seat in the Senate.

It is admitted upon [illegible] Dupont and such is the [illegible] 30 persons so present [illegible] right to vote as afore[illegible] were so qualified. It is [illegible] ever, that one of the 30 [illegible] E. Watson, claiming [illegible] from the county of K[illegible] to be a speaker of the S[illegible] ing the right as such senator [illegible] and participate in the [illegible] such joint assembly and [illegible] for senator, was not [illegible] constitution to the seat [illegible] the laws of the [illegible] such joint assembly and [illegible] be counted therein in making [illegible] ber present and had [illegible] vote in such assembly [illegible] senator. The report [illegible] contention upon the part [illegible] is correct then it is conceded [illegible] duly elected senator and [illegible] seat.

The whole question [illegible] case is as to the right of W[illegible] present in such joint as[illegible] counted therein in making [illegible] present so as to require [illegible] members to make an [illegible]

The ground upon which [illegible] upon the part of Mr. [illegible] Watson was ineligible to [illegible] joint assembly and should [illegible] counted therein in making [illegible] constituting the same [illegible] fact that although he [illegible] ted a senator from the [illegible] from the commencement [illegible] in January, 1895, [illegible] that year, had held [illegible] in the Senate and had [illegible] er thereof and served [illegible] he had on the ninth [illegible] the governor of the state [illegible] Joshua H. Marvil having [illegible] previous, succeeded to [illegible] of the state in virtue [illegible] the constitution of the [illegible] that date until the [illegible] lowing had continued to [illegible] tions and duties of [illegible] and that therefore on M[illegible] then holding the office of [illegible] ernor of the state of D[illegible] eligible to a seat in said [illegible] and had no right whatever [illegible] visions of the constitution [illegible] of the laws of the [illegible] either to participate [illegible] wise, or to be counted [illegible]

Your committee hold [illegible] tion on the part of Mr. [illegible] founded. A further [illegible] Mr. Watson only [illegible] periods but the vital [illegible] mittee says turns upon [illegible] son then exercising the [illegible] nor, to cast a vote in [illegible] May 9th, 1895 [illegible] is clearly of the [illegible] he had not. The committee [illegible] lengthy investigation of [illegible] involved in determining [illegible] to whether the offices held [illegible] as senator and speaker [illegible] not become absolutely [illegible] coming governor and [illegible] while holding and exercising [illegible] tive offices his right to [illegible] functions either of the [illegible] or speaker of the senate [illegible] suspended.

Much high legal and [illegible] is quoted in support of [illegible] which leads the majority [illegible] mittee to the conclusion [illegible] Watson's vote in the [illegible] the 9th of May, 1895, [illegible] but 29 members of the [illegible] then entitled to vote [illegible] Dupont received 15 votes [illegible] the whole number cast [illegible] he was legally elected [illegible] state of Delaware for the [illegible] mencing March 4, 1895 [illegible] be seated.

The views of the minority [illegible] mittee adverse to these [illegible] be presented by Senator [illegible] state in contest.

WASHINGTON NEWS

Steam Revenue Cutter for Service on Atlantic Coast.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. The House Commerce Committee is expected to decide soon upon a favorable report upon the bill authorizing the construction and equipment of a steam revenue cutter for service on the Atlantic coast, with headquarters at New York. The Senate Commerce Committee has made a favorable report on a similar measure, and no doubt exists that it will pass that body without difficulty.

Increased Power to Consular Officers.

Before taking any steps [illegible] tion of giving increased [illegible] sular officers of the United States with a view to preventing under[illegible] state department is [illegible] tions from such officers as to the [illegible] methods to obtain such a result.

The department has sent a [illegible] ter to consular officers in Europe [illegible] them to make an exhaustive [illegible] to the goods manufactured and [illegible] to the United States in their [illegible] districts, the chances for [illegible] and the best methods for [illegible] When all the replies have been [illegible] First Assistant Secretary of State Rockhill and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Hamlin will decide [illegible] best regulations to adopt.

There is a fear in some quarters that the popularity of the consuls may be affected in their usefulness impaired by the character of their reports, as was the case with Consul Parteile, in Germany, who recently drew upon himself the wrath of German merchants for his straightforward statements in relation with undervaluation.

LARGE FUNERAL.

Isaac Murphy the Famous Jockey Laid at Rest.

LEXINGTON, KY., Feb. 17. The largest funeral ever seen here over a colored person took place yesterday afternoon when Isaac Murphy, the famous jockey, was laid at rest. A number of prominent turfmen from all over the country were present and floral tributes were sent from nearly every quarter, it requiring a large wagon to haul the flowers that the dead jockey's admirers had sent to decorate his grave.

The Epworth League connected with the Methodist church was represented at Orono last night by a delegation of ten or twelve members who were to assist in organizing the local union of Epworth League to include the societies of Bangor, Brewer and Orono and Oldtown.

A very pleasant surprise was given Miss Maria George, at East Orrington, on Thursday evening, February 13th, it being her birthday. About forty neighbors and friends assembled, and after a very social time, during which refreshments were served, they presented her with a nice oak writing desk, and her sister with a handsome oak chair with plush trimmings, as tokens of their friendship, which were fully appreciated.

The dyspeptic carries a dreadful load on his back. It seems as if he were really made up of two men. One of them ambitious, brainy and energetic; the other sick, listless, peevish and without force. The weak man weighs the other one down. The dyspeptic may be able to do pretty good work one day, and the next day because of some little indiscretion in eating, he may be able to do nothing at all. He isn't capable of continuous and vigorous effort. His bodily discomfort affects his mind. Even when he knows just what is the matter, he neglects the simplest precautions and the simple treatment that would cure him. Most of dyspepsia starts with constipation, and constipation can be cured. Constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of all human sickness. Some of its symptoms are sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, foul breath, windy belchings, heartburn, pain and distress after eating. All these are indicative of derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels, and all are caused by constipation. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the quickest, easiest and most certain cure for this condition. They are quick, but not violent in their action. There is nothing about them that will give the system any shock. They not only relieve immediately, but if taken according to directions, they will absolutely cure. "You do not become a slave to their use." They are different and better than any other pill or preparation offered for the same purpose. Almost all druggists understand this, and are conscientious enough to tell you so. The druggist who tries to sell you a substitute is not a safe man from whom to buy medicine. If you will send your address, we will send you a sample package, containing from 4 to 7 doses, and you can see exactly what the "Pellets" will do for you.

If you will send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, we will send you FREE the most useful medical book ever presented to the public. At Portland and Vicinity.

PORTLAND, Feb. 17. The coldest day of winter. Thermometer 15° below; Deering, 18° below; Westbrook, 20° below.

At New Haven, Conn.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 17. The thermometer touched 11° below zero this morning in this vicinity. Last night was the coldest of the winter.

At Bradford, Vt.

BRADFORD, Vt., Feb. 17. The coldest morning of the season. Mercury 24° below. Cold north wind, fine sleighing.

At Pawtucket, R. I.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Feb. 17. The weather this morning was the coldest of the season here and along the Blackstone Valley; the thermometers registered from 12° to 15° below.

15 Below at Nashua, N. H.

NASHUA, N. H., Feb. 17. This morning was the coldest of the winter, the thermometer reaching 15° below.

At Lawrence, Mass.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Feb. 17. The thermometer dropped to 17° below in one section of this city this morning. At North Andover it was 22° below.

At Malone, N. Y., and Vicinity.

MALONE, N. Y., Feb. 17. This was the most trying morning of the winter on account of the fact that with a stiff breeze blowing, the thermometer was from 28 to 31° below zero at this point. The mercury touched 32° below at Mountain View, 35° at Brushton, and 40° at Macham Lake.

49 Below at Saranac Lake, N. Y.

At Nantucket, Mass.

NANTUCKET, Mass., Feb. 17. The severest cold wave experienced for years prevailed to-day. The mercury this morning dropped from 45° to 1° below zero in twenty-four hours. The sudden fall in temperature has caused the ocean all about the island to be wrapped in a thick mist as if it were an early June morning.

Coldest Ever Known.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Feb. 17. This was the coldest day ever known in this city. At three o'clock this morning the thermometer reached 15° below, a drop of 75° in fifteen hours. All the coast towns report the same temperature.

10 Degrees Below in Boston.

BOSTON, Feb. 17. This was the coldest morning of the winter throughout many sections of New England. While some points record a reading unequaled for several years, the lowest reading reported is from Fort Fairfield, Maine, 42° below zero. Other points report thermometers ranging down to 40° below. In Boston this morning it was 10° below.

Severe in Concord.

Concord, N. H., Feb. 17.—Last night was one of the severest known in this section for many years. A high wind prevailed and the cold was intense, the mercury taking a big drop. The thermometer registered from 22 to 25 below here early this morning and stood at 12 below in Main street at 10 o'clock. Reports from other places show the following records all below: East Corinth and Plymouth, 18; Woodsville, Newport and Boscawen, 20; Claremont Junction, 21; Franklin, Warner and Canaan, 22; Henniker and Potters Place, 23; Lancaster, 25; Elmwood, Peterboro, Antrim, Contoocook, Hillsboro and Newbury, 26; Danbury, Berlin and Salisbury, 27; West Lebanon and Northville, 28; Enfield, 29; Fabyans, 31; Bradford, 30.

Record in Various Places in Vermont.

Bellows Falls, Vt., Feb. 17.—The mercury this morning scored the following below zero records in this locality: 22 at Bellows Falls; 24 at Springfield; 25 at Cavendish; 28 at Ludlow; 31 at Summit; 22 at Grafton; 24 at West Minister; 17 at East Putney; 34 at Athens Pond; 27 at Alstead, N. H.; 25 at Acworth, N. H. At midnight Saturday it was raining heavily and the thermometer was 33 above, making the drop 50 to 60 degrees in thirty hours.

FIRE RECORD.

Brick Building in Philadelphia Destroyed with Contents.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 17. Fire broke out this morning in the five-story brick building occupied by F. C. Thompson, soap manufacturer, corner of Swanson and Washington avenues. The building and contents were destroyed. Several dwellings were also destroyed. The loss is estimated at $200,000.

RESULTS TELL THE STORY.

A vast mass of direct, unimpeachable testimony proves beyond any possibility of doubt that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually does perfectly and permanently cure diseases caused by impure blood. Its record of cures is unequalled and these cures have often been accomplished after all other preparations had failed.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, biliousness, jaundice, indigestion, sick headache.

SHE COULDN'T WAIT.

Lady—"I want to sit for a picture."

Artist—"I shall be very glad to paint you, if you will wait a week, until I finish the one I am at work on now."

Lady—"Oh! my, I couldn't wait that long. Why, I promised to be home to dinner at five o'clock!"

That's the trouble with some people, they have no time to wait for results. Some women will take a dose or so of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and expect to feel well immediately. True, some do find marvelously speedy effects from a single dose, but chronic diseases, which have had possession of the system for years, cannot be cured in a day. Persevere with it and it will cure you, ladies, of all the ills you suffer from. The "Prescription" cures in all cases of nervousness, spasms, chorea, irregularities, painful periods and kindred ailments.

A SET OF ROGUES.

By FRANK BARRETT.

[Copyright, 1895, by Macmillan & Co.]

CHAPTER XXXIII.

Another week passed by, and then Dawson, shortsighted as he was in his selfishness, began to perceive that things were not coming all right, as he had expected. Once or twice when I went into his shop I caught him sitting idle before his lathe, with a most woebegone look in his face.

"What's amiss, Jack?" asks I one day when I found him thus.

He looked to see that the door was shut, and then says he gloomily:

"She doesn't sing as she used to, Kit; she doesn't laugh hearty."

I hunched my shoulders.

"She doesn't play us any of her old pranks," continues he. "She doesn't say one thing and go and do t'other the next moment, as she used to do. She's too good."

What could I say to one who was fond enough to think that the summer would come back at his wish and last forever?

"She's not the same, Kit," he goes on. "No, not by 20 years. One would say she is older than I am, yet she's scarce the age of woman. And I do see she gets more pale and thin each day. D'ye think she's fretting for him?"

"Like enough, Jack," says I. "What would you? He's her husband, and 'tis as if he was dead to her. She cannot be a maid again. 'Tis young to be a widow and no hope of being wife evermore."

"God forgive me," says he, hanging his head.

"We did it for the best," says I. "We could not foresee this."

It so happened that night that Moll could eat no supper, pleading for her excuse that she felt sick.

"What is it, chuck?" says Jack, setting down his knife and drawing his chair beside Moll's.

"The vapors, I think," says she, with a faint smile.

"Nay," says he, slipping his arm about her waist and drawing her to him. "My Moll hath no such modish humors. 'Tis something else. I have watched ye, and do perceive you eat less and less. Tell us what ails you."

"Well, dear," says she, "I do believe 'tis idleness is the root of my disorder."

After this we sat silent awhile, looking into the embers; then Jack, first to give expression to his thoughts, says:

"I think you were never so happy in your life, Moll, as that time we were in Spain, nor can I recollect ever feeling so free from care myself—after we got out of the hands of that gentleman robber. There's a sort of infectious brightness in the sun, and the winds, blow which way they may, do chase away dull thoughts and dispose one to jollity. Eh, sweetheart? Why, we met never a tattered vagabond on the road but he was hallooing of ditties, and a kinder, more hospitable set of people never lived. With a couple of rials in your pocket you feel as rich and independent as with £100 in your hand elsewhere."

At this point Moll, who had hitherto listened in apathy to these eulogies, suddenly pushing back her chair, looks at us with a strange look in her eyes, and says under her breath, "Elche!"

"Barcelony for my money," responds Dawson, whose memories of Elche were not so cheerful as of those parts where we had led a more vagabond life.

"Elche!" repeats Moll, twining her fingers, and with a smile gleaming in her eyes.

"Does it please you, chuck, to talk of these matters?"

"Yes, yes!" returns she eagerly. "You know not the joy it gives me."

"'Twas near about this time of the year that we started on our travels," said I.

"Aye, I recollect 'twas mighty cold when we set sail, and the fruit trees were all bursting into bloom when we came into France. I would we were there now; eh, Moll?"

"What, dear?" asks she, rousing herself at this direct question.

"I say, what would you give to be back there now, child?"

"Oh, will you take me there if I would go?"

"With all my heart, dear Moll. Is there anything in the world I'd not do to make you happy?"

She took his hand upon her knee, and caressing it says:

"Let us go soon, father."

"What! Will you be dancing of fandangoes again?" asks he, and she nods for reply, though I believe her thoughts had wandered again to some other matter.

"I warrant I shall fall into the step again the moment I smell garlic, but I'll rehearse it an hour tomorrow morning, that we may lose no time. Will you have a short skirt and a waistcloth again, Moll?"

She, with her elbows on her knees now and her chin in her hands, looking into the fire, nodded.

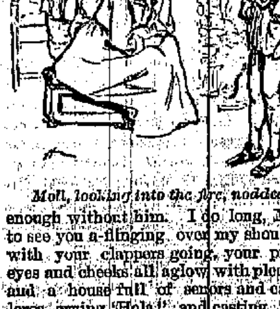
"And you, Kit," continues he—"you'll get a guitar and play tunes for us, as I take it you will keep us company still."

"Yes, you may count on me for that," says I.

"We shan't have Don Sanchez to play the tambour for us, but I wager I shall beat it as well as he, though, seeing he owes us more than we owe him, we might in reason call upon him, and"—

"No, no; only we three," says Moll.

"Aye, there's enough in all conscience, and seeing we know a bit of the language we shall get on well enough without him. I do long, Moll, to see you a-flinging over my shoulder, with your clappers going, your pretty eyes and cheeks all aglow with pleasure and a house full of senors and caballeros crying 'Hola!' and casting their handkerchiefs at your feet."



Moll, looking into the fire, nodded.

Moll fetched a long, fluttering sigh, and turning to her father says in an absurd way: "Yes, dear, yes. When shall we go?"

Then, falling to discussing particulars, Dawson, clasping his hands upon his stomach, asked with a long face if at this season we were likely to fall in with the equinoxes on our voyage, and also if we could not hit some point of Spain so as to avoid crossing the Pyrenees mountains and the possibility of falling again into the hands of brigands. To which I replied that, knowing nothing of the northern part of Spain and its people, we stood a chance of finding a rude climate, unsuitable to traveling at this time of year, and an inhospitable reception, and that, as our object was to reach the south as quickly as possible, it would be more to our advantage to find a ship going through the straits which would carry us as far as Alicante or Valencia. And, Moll supporting my argument very vigorously, Dawson gave way with much less reluctance than I expected at the outset. But, indeed, the good fellow seemed now ready to make any sacrifice of himself so that he might see his Moll joyous again.

When I entered his shop the next morning, I found him with his coat off, cutting capers, a wooden platter in his hand for a tambourine and the sweat pouring down his face.

"I am a couple of stone or so too heavy for the boleros," gasps he, coming to a stand, "but I doubt not by the time we land at Alicante there'll not be an ounce too much of me."

Learning that a convoy for the Levant was about to set sail with the next favorable wind from Chatham, we took horse and rode there that afternoon; and by great good luck we found the Faithful Friend, a good ship bound for Genoa in Italy. Whereof Mr. Dixon, the master, having intent to enter and victual at Alicante, undertook to carry us there for £10 a head, so being we could get all aboard by the next evening at sundown.

Here was short grace, to be sure, but we did so dispatch our affairs that we were embarked in due time, and by daybreak the following morning were under weigh.

Steamer Believed to be Fitting for Filibustering Expedition.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Feb. 17. Information has been received from Cuttyhunk, the most western of the Elizabeth Islands, that a large steamer, believed to be fitting for a filibustering expedition, was anchored in Vineyard Sound all day Wednesday, the 12th. During that day a four-masted schooner beat up the sound and anchored beside the steamer. The next day both vessels disappeared.

WILL ISSUE DENIAL

That an Alliance Exists between Brazil and Chili.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. A Buenos Ayres despatch to the Herald says: The Press of Brazil has been aroused to severe protest. The correspondent in Rio Janeiro telegraphs by the statement attributed to Minister Mendonca, in an interview in the United States, that an alliance existed between Brazil and Chili. It is stated as highly probable that the government will issue a formal denial of this alleged alliance to satisfy the government of Argentine, that the most friendly feelings exist toward the republic on the part of Brazil.

TWO PERSONS SHOT.

Jealousy Supposed to be the Cause for the Crime.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 17. Robert Rohlfing, aged 19, and John Rohlfing, aged 21, printers, worked for H. G. Sherman at 314 Olive street, and slept in a back room of the office. When Robert went to the room last night he stumbled over the corpse of his brother. Getting a light he went into the printing office and there found the body of Barbara Castle with a revolver in her hand. Both had been dead for several hours. Rohlfing was shot below the heart by the woman who then fired a shot through her brain and must have died instantly. Jealousy is thought to have been the motive for the crime.

"They talk about Maine being a good State to emigrate from," says a Maine lawyer, "and doubtless for the last fifty years many thousands of Maine people have gone to find homes in other States. But in this matter I think we forget how much Maine owes to other States for citizens who have come here to be identified with us. Certainly, if we should strike out of the history of our State the names of those born in others, we should be more than astonished at the vacancy it would occasion. Think how the name of Blaine has been heralded over the country as that of 'the man from Maine.' Yet he was a Pennsylvanian. If we come to the list of those eminent men who have done so much to aid in the progress we have made as a State, as judges of the Maine supreme court, there is food for reflection. Chief Justice Mellen was born in Sterling, Mass.; Chief Justice Whitman, born in Massachusetts; Chief Justice Shepley, born in Groveton, Mass.; Chief Justice John S. Tenney, born in Rowley, Mass.; Chief Justice John Appleton, born in New Ipswich, New Hampshire. Then there was Judge Jonas Cutting, born in New Hampshire; Judge Kent, born in Concord, N. H.; Judge Dickerson, born in New Chester, N. H.; Judge Tapley, born in Danvers, Mass. Isn't that a list of distinguished men? And in other callings we might find a similar contribution from other communities. Evidently, Maine has been a good State to emigrate to, and let us hope it still has advantages to call men hither."

MAINE MELANGE.

An Abduction Case Reported in Machias.

Another Effort Made for Opera House in Portland.

Cumberland.

The Bowdoin alumni of Portland had their annual reunion at the Falmouth Hotel Saturday night. Plates were laid for fifty. After dinner an oration was delivered by D. W. Snow, a poem by Joseph A. Locke, and C. W. Peabody acted as toastmaster. Toasts were responded to by several members in an informal and social way.

The Sir Knights of Portland commandery, Knights Templar, will give a reception to their lady friends in the evening of Feb. 27. There will be a reception to the eminent commander and suite, followed by an entertainment, in which Boston talent will figure prominently.

The committee having in charge the plans and details of the new boat for the Maine Steamship Company will hold a meeting in New York this week and it is possible that the contract may be awarded at this time. The Portland Company have made a bid for the construction of the new steamer and if they should receive the contract it would not necessarily be awarded the lowest bidder but to the parties whose plans were considered to be the best by the committee.

After years of spasmodic effort and accompanying hopelessness, has at last come, not only the hope, but the well grounded belief, that Portland is to have a new opera house. Messrs. A. R. Wright, Edward B. Winslow and Henry P. Cox, three prominent and public-spirited citizens, started out early last week with a determination to ascertain whether the long pending desire for an opera house was real or imaginary. They made a personal canvass of the city's best known business men, soliciting stock subscriptions. They met with such success that when the subscribers were called together Thursday night, the committee was able to report that $76,000 had been raised, and there was good prospect of increasing the subscriptions to $100,000. Gov. Henry B. Cleaves is one of the incorporators of the company, and associated with him on the committee, in whose hands have been left arrangements for an incorporation of the subscribers, are Messrs. E. B. Winslow, A. R. Wright, H. P. Cox, Payson Tucker, Ammi Whitney and Walter G. Davis. Regarding a choice of a site for the proposed opera house, the leaders of the movement are making no talk for publication. It is their intention to locate it in a central part of the city, and to have it ready for occupancy next winter. Beyond this knowledge the public has not yet been taken into confidence, the projectors preferring to keep matters secret till a building site is purchased. Portland has long been an object of derision for its lack of a modern playhouse.

Eben Y. Pomeroy, a highly respected citizen, of Yarmouth, dropped dead while working in his carpenter shop Saturday afternoon, of heart disease, aged seventy-eight.

Capt. Isaac H. McDonald, of Portland, whose death was announced a week ago last Saturday, once had the unusual experience of reading his own obituary. Several years ago he was stricken with a sickness that caused his family alarm. He lingered between life and death several days. At last, late one night, word reached the newspaper offices that Capt. McDonald was dead. It was too near the hour of going to press to admit of the preparation of an extended notice, but each of the morning papers published an obituary, in which complimentary reference was made of his busy life. After the editions had been run off, the newspaper men learned that the news of the captain's death was incorrect, that the crisis had passed, and he was on the road to recovery. As soon as Capt. McDonald was able to get out of doors he called at the newspaper offices, expressed dissatisfaction at the incompleteness of their sketches of his life, and voluntarily gave them data with which to round out their obituaries of him whenever he should depart this life. Those obituary notices, which have been tucked away in the local editor's pigeonholes, were put to use Saturday.

The steamer Memphis sailed from Portland, Friday afternoon, with a very large cargo, the American portion consisted of 1,193 boxes of provisions, 400 pails of lard, 18,515 sacks of flour, 8,548 bushels of corn, 600 sacks of peas, 800 cattle, 800 sheep. The value of the American portion of the cargo is estimated at $185,472. The Canadian is valued at $219,299, and consisted of 13,075 bushels and 7,600 bags of peas, 100 sacks of beans, 216 sacks of oat meal, 312 bales of hay, 32 barrels of metal dross, 325 cases of leather, 119 pieces of timber, 5 barrels of pearled ashes and 21,755 boxes of cheese.

"And so it seems that the schooner Lucy Wentworth has been reported in a sinking condition," said a Portland street man the other day. "That ends a long series of mishaps. For months she has simply passed from one difficulty to another, and much of the time has been undergoing repairs. For six months past she has been the most down in her luck of all the Maine vessels."

At the United Church in New Haven, Ct., Sunday night, President William DeWitt Hyde, of Bowdoin College, delivered an address on "National Ideals; Belligerency versus Arbitration." His address was an argument in favor of an international tribunal of arbitration. He said if the United States go out of their way to pick a quarrel we may even go to war with a nation that does not wish it. England and the United States are great nations and they should take the lead in establishing international peace. There is an opportunity to establish unity on an honorable basis."

Washington.

Oscar Palmer, who was brought to Machias from Frank McLaughlin's camp on Township No. 37, suffering from a severe illness, had a surgical operation performed which proved unsuccessful owing to the advanced stage of the disease. He died within a few hours thereafter.

Addie Smith, aged about ten years, was on Wednesday forenoon, abducted from the residence of Mrs Callagan, in Machias, with whom she has been boarding. The persons implicated are not known, but as her parents who live in Marion desired her return home, and were averse to paying the balance due for her board, it is thought this might have some connection with the abduction.

Band Master Howe says that in all his travels over the United States he has never seen or heard of a society that can beat the Ladies' Band Society of Machias, in pluck and energy. At the band concerts they give cake and ice cream and attend to the sale of it, besides paying the regular entrance fee, and all their doings are on the same scale. He thinks Machias has reason to be very proud of a society composed of ladies of such ability and go-a-headitiveness.

York.

The Second Christian church at Kittery Foreside was burned Sunday morning. The town has no fire department, depending entirely upon the United States navy yard department. Some time elapsed after the alarm sounded before any water was played on the fire. The flames got such a headway that Portsmouth, N. H., was asked for assistance. The chief engineer sent a steamer and hose wagons, and with their assistance the fire was kept from spreading. The church was recently rebuilt and refurnished. Loss, $7,500; insured for $3,000. The fire is supposed to have caught from a defective furnace pipe. A detachment of United States marines, in charge of Lieut. Treadwell, did good work and made a brave effort to save the church furnishings. Rev. J. G. Dutton, pastor of the church, was to have preached his farewell address next Sunday, having accepted a call to a New Bedford church.

RHEUMATISM CURED IN A DAY.

"Mystic Cure" for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits; 75 cents. Sold by Caldwell Sweet, J. L. Mountain & Co., Ara Warren, Druggists, Bangor. nov26 TTS

If the life insurance people recommend a remedy it must be something they have faith in. Well that's what they do about Adamson's Cough Balsam. It prolongs life and makes the insurance risk a mere bagatelle.

CITY AND VICINITY.

As a solution of the question, what causes some of the mysterious fires, a Cambridge correspondent of the Dexter Gazette has a story. On one side of his barn is an open shed, under which, last fall, a ladder was set up near an open window. In the bottom of the ladder two old files were driven for brads to hold the ladder from slipping when in use. One evening while he was doing chores at the barn, he noticed the chickens going up the ladder to the window, also that the ladder did not stand very firmly. Before he finished his work several chickens flew in at the window, and the ladder fell in such a way that the files struck a rock and set the straw on fire and burned over a place as large as a bushel basket before it was discovered. In a few minutes more the fire would have been beyond control and the barn would have been burned.

Calais News.

Last Friday evening the drama, "Jim The Penman," was given in St. Croix Hall to a crowded house by local amateur talent. It was rendered in a manner that would have done credit to the professional troup. The entertainment was given for the benefit of Mr. Leo Lamond to help him in the prosecution of his law studies, writes our correspondent.

Beginning to-day, February 17, a stage will be run from Vanceboro to this city making a round trip every day to bring down the mail which reaches Vanceboro a little before midnight and which the C. P. R. has no train to bring to Calais until afternoon of the following day. The contract has been sublet to Mr. Carson, of Robbinston.

Mr. Ed. Short has just accepted a position as junior clerk in Calais National Bank.

The Plebian Society will give a winter picnic in the vestry of the Baptist church next Thursday evening. As this is rather out of the ordinary picnic season it is expected that it will prove a very novel entertainment.

A very enjoyable social event occurred at "Thorncroft," the house of E. C. Young, last Thursday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock, when Mrs. E. C. Young and Mrs. Frank Porter Woods gave a tea to their friends to the number of one hundred or more. The guests were very happily received by the hostesses. The dining room was presided over by Miss Josephine Moore, assisted by Miss Carolyn Lord and Miss Charlotte Young. Blanched almonds and dates, fancy wafers, cakes and ices were served.

The factory of the St. Croix Shoe Company is just now having a slack time in business. Last Monday all the help from the welting room was discharged and much of the help from the stitching room has been notified that they will be discharged next Monday night.

It is hoped that the depression in business may not long continue as a shut down of the factory would be very unfortunate especially at this time of year when it is harder to get other kinds of labor.

It is said that the building of a pulp mill on the St. Croix at Calais is an assured fact the coming season. We shall feel more certain about it however when we see work commenced.

A few nights since as Officer Miller was driving down Main street his horse became frightened at the electric snow plough and throwing Mr. Miller out seriously injured his shoulder.

Mayor Ray has been recently appointed to the office of superintendent of Water Works to succeed Mr. Stacy, who has been a most efficient officer.

One of the many good things with which our city is to be blessed is the organization of a young men's club. The permanent organization is in the hands of an able committee which was appointed at a banquet of young men held at the American House last Wednesday evening.

Hampden Corner News.

Our correspondent writes: The dedication of Harmony Hall occurs Saturday evening. A fine programme has been prepared and a large number of people will no doubt be present. Much credit is due the ladies of the Village Improvement Association for the work they have done and the interest manifested in having the building put in such attractive condition.

Tuesday evening, February 18th, the Academy Aid Association gives an entertainment in the Town Hall which promises to draw a crowd. Lady minstrels will be one of the features, and judging from the talent of some who will take part it ought to be highly entertaining.

A large amount of timber and shingle material is being hauled to Swan's mill.

Mr. F. P. Reed, who has been visiting in Massachusetts, returned home Saturday.

The Academy Aid Association held its monthly meeting Thursday afternoon with Mrs. H. W. Mayo.

Charles A. Fifield, who has been sick for some time, is somewhat improved.

The winter term of the Academy closes February 21. The spring term begins March 17th. The teachers are much liked, and the work accomplished highly satisfactory.

At a meeting of Frank G. Flagg Post at Hampden, February 8th, the members were surprised and very much pleased to receive a visit from Horace S. Cole, who is visiting his old home for the first time in twenty-eight years. Comrade Cole enlisted in the First Maine Cavalry, Company A, and served through the war, having been promoted to be captain of his company.

For twenty-seven years he has made his home in Minnesota, where he owns a stock and grain farm near Fergus Falls. He was a charter member of Stanton Post at that place. He is also a member of the military order of the Loyal Legion.

There were several comrades present who were in his company, and it was pleasant to see the hearty greetings exchanged.

It is regretted that Capt. Cole cannot make a longer visit, but his business arrangements will call him home, by way of Washington where he will remain a short time.

A vote of thanks was extended to Commander E. B. Maddocks for his untiring efforts to make the annual Camp Fire, January 28, the most successful one ever lighted in Hampden; to Rev. D. E. French and Rev. T. P. Humphrey for the invocation and the address of welcome; to the speakers, Hon. Llewellyn Powers, of Houlton, Prof. Rogers, of Orono, Department Commander Wm. H. Green, of Portland, and Rev. A. J. Lockhart, of Hampden; to the readers, Miss Annie F. Walker, Miss Mabel Holland and Miss Lillian Partridge; to the singers, Mrs. Nellie Hodgkins and Miss Mildred Earl Whiting; to the band, and to Master Leslie Sparrow; also to the ladies of the Relief Corps, for the bountiful supper, and to the young ladies who attended to the wants of the guests.

After the business meeting was concluded, the Relief Corps gained admittance to the hall, and served cake and coffee, and the remainder of the evening was passed very pleasantly listening to speeches and readings.

The meetings of the Post are well attended and recruits are being added. The last two were E. R. Packard and Geo. N. Holland.

TRUST IN FOOD.

Eat Proper Food and See That You Digest It.

Your health and strength depend on the food you eat—and the way you digest it.

Simplicity in diet and looking after your stomach may add several years to your life.

It will certainly make you happier, for unhappy people are generally dyspeptics.

The Shakers of Mount Lebanon are a peculiar people, with peculiar views.

They may not be right in everything, but they know how to live a healthy life. They take care of their stomachs. They live to a ripe old age.

When they have indigestion, they take a few doses of a peculiar cordial which they have for years prepared from medicinal herbs and plants. It is called the Shaker Digestive Cordial.

Shaker Digestive Cordial will cure indigestion immediately; permanently with the aid of a proper diet. It is a tonic for the stomach and for the whole system. It makes your food make strength, and this is the whole secret of strength, health and happiness.

Pale, thin, weary, worn out individuals, with no health, energy or ambition, will get strong and bright and healthy, by taking the Shaker Digestive Cordial.

FACTS.

It is a fact, that any pain anywhere, every lameness everywhere, is penetrated, relieved or cured by this wonderful, soothing Anodyne. It is the sovereign remedy for bites, burns, bruises. For backache, earache, headache, neckache, stomachache, toothache, in fact every ache. For scalds, stings, strains, sprains, stiff joints, swellings and sore muscles. For colds, chills, coughs and catarrh. For hacking, hoarseness and whooping cough. For asthma, bronchitis, diphtheria, la grippe, sore throat and lungs. For colic, croup, cramps, cholera-morbus and summer complaints. For dyspeptic pains, neuralgia and muscular rheumatism. For cuts, cracks, corns, contusions, chaps and chilblains, all irritations and inflammations. For lame back, side, shoulder. For pains in chest, kidneys, stomach, use the great vital and muscle nervine. Every ailment above is caused by or accompanied with inflammation, to cure which Johnson's Anodyne Liniment was originated.

Johnson's ORIGINATED 1810.
ANODYNE LINIMENT

It was invented by the late Dr. A. Johnson, an old fashioned, noble hearted Family Physician. It is recommended by physicians everywhere. All who use it are amazed at its power and praise it forever after. It is for Internal as much as External use. It is used and endorsed by all athletes. It is the best, the oldest, the original. It is unlike any other. It is superior to all others. It is not merely a Liniment, it is the Universal Household Remedy from infancy to old age. There is not a medicine today which possesses the confidence of the public to so great an extent. It has stood on its own intrinsic merit while generation after generation has used it with entire satisfaction. You can safely trust what time has endorsed. Every Mother should have it in the house, dropped on sugar suffering children love to take it. It produces an increase of vital activity in the system, and thus cures disease. Its electric energy everlastingly eradicates inflammation without irritation.

All who order direct from us, and request it, shall receive a certificate that their money shall be refunded if not abundantly satisfied. Price 35 cts; Six $2.00, express prepaid. If you can't get it near home send to us. Ask first. Sold by druggists. Pamphlet free. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom House Street, Boston, Mass., Sole Proprietors.

LOCAL MATTERS.

The quarterly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will be held this evening.

The Bangor steam laundry will be closed this morning during the funeral of the late Albert A. Pond.

The Charity Circle of King's Daughters will meet with Mrs. Charles Gould on Maple street, Wednesday afternoon, at 2.30.

The M. B. Club held a very pleasant social last evening with the Misses Barr on Division street. Nearly all the members were in attendance.

The members of the "Humanity" company are stopping at several of the hotels, as it is a large company and the hotels have many guests this week.

Quite a large party of Bangor people left yesterday for Boston to attend the grand operas. The excursion was, as usual arranged by Mr. Jason Crowell.

It is expected that a week from next Monday evening the first lecture in the University extension course will be given. Only $75 is needed now to assure the course.

Mr. B. S. Matthews, who has been with the J. M. Arnold Shoe Co., has taken a similar position with the Brunnells Higgins Shoe Co., of Portland, instead of the firm mentioned yesterday.

It was exceedingly cold yesterday morning when the mercury went as low as 22 below in this vicinity. In Northern Maine it fell to 42 degrees below. During the last of the afternoon and in the night it grew much warmer.

There will be a meeting of the Musical Literary Club this evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Central church vestry. All members and those desiring to become members or wishing to know more about the club are earnestly desired to be present.

Lent will be observed at St. John's Episcopal church with services daily. On Wednesday at 10 30 A. M.; on other Wednesdays at 7.30 P. M.; on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays at 5 P. M.; on Saturdays at 12.15 P. M.; on Sundays at 7.45 and 10.30 A. M., and 4 P. M.

Mr. J. Montgomery Sears, of Boston, and a party of friends who passed through the city a few days ago on their way to Bar Harbor, were again in the city last evening on their return to Boston. They took supper at the Bangor Exchange and left on the 8 o'clock train

There is some talk of getting up a petition to the government to appropriate $25,000 to blow out Willis Gut and make a ship channel out of it. Such a movement would be of great value, not only to Harpswell and Phippsburg, but all kinds of vessels in rough weather could avail themselves of this route to Portland by passing through Willis Gut.

The Supreme Court was not in session yesterday and none of the county offices, except the Probate Court, was open on account of the giving out of a steam pipe which carries the steam from the jail boiler to the Court House, as a means of heat. As it was a very cold day, it was deemed best to close up until to-day. In the Probate Court gas stoves were used and the gas was turned on full head, making the rooms passably comfortable.

At a recent meeting at New Haven, Conn., of the Yale College Alumni of Hotchkiss School, three representative students of the school were invited to be present. They were one representing the school at large, the captain of the athletic team and the captain of the foot ball eleven. Mr. E. T. Savage, son of Mr. T. R. Savage, of this city, was chosen by the students to fill the first named position, which he did most satisfactorily.

Mr. W. B. Miller, of New York, secretary of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A., and Secretary R. A. Jordan of the Bangor association addressed a large union mass meeting in the Waterville Baptist church Sunday evening under the auspices of the Waterville Y. M. C. A., which made Sunday a rallying day. The meeting was a great success and over $600 was raised after Mr. Jordan's address, which not only clears up the association's debt but leaves a good sum in the treasury.

Friday evening, February 21st, a concert will be given in Grange Hall at Six Mile Falls, under the auspices of the Queen City grange. Madame Despret, Mrs. Nelson, Mr. Morton, Miss Blanche Fogg, Mr. George Shannon, Miss Maude Richardson, Miss Kit Merrill, Miss Gertrude Hutchings and Mr. Larsen will be prominent participants and the occasion will be a general musical treat. Refreshments will be served. The proceeds of the affair are to be made a part of the grange's contribution to the State grange fund for the erection of a cottage at Good Will farm. Every holder of a ticket at this entertainment will have the privilege of voting whether the cottage shall be for girls or boys.

The fish and game commissioners are holding a meeting at the Capital, settling up some of the expense accounts for the past year. There will be a meeting today at 10 A. M. in the judiciary room of the committee on legislation of the Maine Sportsmen's Fish and Game Association. The object of the meeting is to determine what steps had better be taken to make a legal test of certain features of the fish and game laws of which there are now some doubts, in order that an opinion of the court may be secured before the sporting season opens. The committee on legislation consists of Hon. F. E. Timberlake, of Phillips; Hon. J. F. Hill, of Augusta; Hon. J. F. Sprague, of Monson; Hon. L. T. Carleton, of Winthrop; Hon. A. M. Spear, of Gardiner, and Col. E. C. Farrington, of Augusta.

Charlotte Goodale Thurston, who became the widow of Samuel Thurston in 1870, and who died last week, was born in Orrington in 1809, being the youngest child of Ephraim Goodale, a prominent pioneer to this State, a gentleman of the old school, of dignity and culture, zealously devoted to agriculture and fruit growing upon a farm made by him one of the first farms in Maine. She was the only survivor at her decease of her large family and of the Thurston family of brothers and sisters into which she married. She was known by all as a woman of great personal and social refinement and culture, of an exceptionally genial and generous disposition, a happy, cheerful and trustful spirit, a devoted, unwearied wife, mother and friend and an earnest Christian. Such a temperament, life and faith buoyed her up in the midst of numerous depressing experiments and bereavements of her long life. In the society of nature, books and friends she lived a long and useful life. One son, Willis D. Thurston, and four daughters survive her.

Very superior for catarrh and bronchitis, is the verdict for Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

A course of Hood's Sarsaparilla this spring may be the means of keeping you well and hearty all summer.

THE COMING MAN

is the gentleman who goes to the Keeley Cure and has his system cleansed and purified and restored to a healthful condition, thereby preparing himself to fill important positions in the busy marts of the world. The Keeley treatment as administered at Deering, Maine, has resulted in many men procuring lucrative and honorable positions, hence this is a very valuable consideration to those contemplating taking the cure. nov21

The annual meeting of the Penobscot Lumbering Association will be held at the Penobscot Exchange, Tuesday, March 3d, at 10.30 A. M.

The Mattawamkeag Log Driving Company will hold their annual meeting at the office of the treasurer, 94 Exchange street, on Wednesday, March 3, at 10.30 A. M.

Charles T. Moses, the corn canner, will hereafter run the corn factory at Corinna, having sold the factory in Dexter. But he will still keep his residence in Dexter, taking his family to Corinna only during the busy season.

Carpenters are putting the Dexter corn factory building in condition for the new owners. A crew of eight men began work making cans Monday. The Portland company will refit the factory with the machinery heretofore used in Vassalboro factory, which they have discontinued.

The board of State assessors are making up blanks to send the local boards for the tax returns of cities, towns and plantations, which are taken April 1. The slips are to be ready for distribution the latter part of March. There is one addition for returns, that of bicycles, the valuation of which will be determined the same as on carriages, etc. There is one change from last year, the returns for taxation on trust companies' stock being separate from that of regular banks. Their charters being more comprehensive, their returns are to be made separate in the future.

The wedding of Miss Katherine Fuller, daughter of Chief Justice Fuller, once of Augusta, Me., and Mr. Theodore Beecher, of Buffalo, N. Y., took place yesterday in Washington. It was a very fashionable event. Dr. Daniel Weston, of Augusta, Me., who performed the marriage ceremony for the Chief Justice and Mrs. Fuller, officiated. The marriage was solemnized at St. John's Episcopal church, the house of worship where nearly all the fashionable weddings of the city take place. Mr. Nathan Clifford, of Portland, son of W. H. Clifford, and grandson of Justice Clifford, who sat on the supreme bench of the United States, was one of the attendants.

President B. L. Whitman, of Columbian University, formerly of Colby University, was honored by a reception Friday evening in Washington at the residence of Dr. Charles A. Richardson. Dr. Richardson is president of the alumni association of Columbian. At his handsome home were gathered prominent professors of the university, Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Hoke Smith, and Postmaster General and Mrs. William L. Wilson, and many other distinguished guests. The library was decorated with huge American Beauty roses, a large bouquet of which was placed in the center of the room. The dining room had the same adornments, with the addition of maiden hair fern. The ladies wore magnificent gowns.

The next meeting of the Maine commissioners of pharmacy will be held in this city at City Hall, Wednesday, April 8. At the last meeting, out of 11 young men who were examined, only four were successful in passing, viz: Addison B. Smith, of Rockland; Elbern T. Bowers, of Lewiston; Edwin P. Smart, of Augusta, and Herbert C. Holmes, of Fort Fairfield. The need of some better preparation by the young men of the State who desire registration as pharmacists has been proven beyond a doubt. The druggists who have been instrumental in securing the establishment of the school of pharmacy at the Maine State college believe that this course will supply the deficiency and in a year or two its beneficial effects will, they believe, be widely felt.

ST MARY'S COFFEE PARTY.

Pleasant Event Begun in The Norombega Monday Evening.

The coffee party under the auspices of St. Mary's Catholic church opened in The Norombega Monday evening and began in an auspicious manner. The attendance was large and all present fully enjoyed the evening and its various features. The hall presented an attractive appearance with the prettily arranged booths for the sale of various articles and their decorations.

During the evening the sale of fancy articles, etc., was patronized and in addition to this there were several guessing contests, etc., that caused much interest and were participated in by many. Refreshments were served during the entire evening.

A pleasing entertainment programme was presented, including a minstrel performance, by a number of the young ladies, which was an entertaining feature, all the participants reflecting much credit on themselves. The party will continue this evening and the success of last evening will doubtless be repeated.

THE G. A. R.

Twenty-ninth Annual Encampment To-day.

Meeting of The Council of Administration Monday.

Also The National and State Relief Corps.

The veterans of the G. A. R. and the members of the National and State Relief Corps began gathering in quite large numbers yesterday for the 29th annual encampment which begins to-day to continue through Wednesday.

Headquarters are at the Bangor House but the comrades will be found at all the hotels. Many will come on the trains to-day when the encampment proper opens. It promises to be a large assemblage of the veterans of the war and the relief corps ladies and plans have been made for a most successful encampment.

Department Commander W. H. Green, of Portland, and the various officials of the State department, arrived yesterday on the noon and afternoon trains and took rooms at the Bangor House, as did the officials of the Relief Corps. They were warmly greeted by Bangor comrades and ladies and were extended the hospitality of the city in an informal way.

The Council of Administration.

In the evening the Council of Administration met at the Bangor House for the purpose of making the usual preliminary arrangements. The reports of the officers which will be read to-day at the encampment were submitted to the council, committees were arranged, and other details for the encampment were looked after as is customary. The Council adjourned about 11.30.

The following compose the Council of Administration:

Commander, William H. Green, Post 2, Portland.
Senior Vice Department Commander, Terrence C. Goodwin, Post 48, Togus.
Junior Vice Department Commander, J. F. Jefferds, Post 38, Livermore Falls.
Medical Director, William H. True, Post 111, Portland.
Chaplain, J. W. Webster (P. O. Newport), Post 151, Lovell.

Official Staff.

Assistant Adjutant General, A. M. Sawyer, Post 2, Portland.
Assistant Quartermaster General, John Williamson, Post 2, Portland.
Inspector, William H. Simmons, Post 16, Rockland.
Judge Advocate, Leroy T. Carleton, Post 21, Winthrop.
Chief Mustering Officer, Moses A. Safford, Post 99, Kittery.
Senior Aid-de-Camp, Cyrus T. Wardwell, Post 49, Oxford.
Murray B. Watson, Post 47, Auburn.
Josiah F. Day, Post 70, Springvale.
George B. Haskell, Post 120, Lewiston.
John P. Carson, Post 141, Mt. Vernon.
Charles H. Hooper, Post 76, Castine.

While the Council was in session the members of the Councils of the National and State Relief Corps were holding meetings in other rooms of the hotel.

State Relief Corps.

The meeting of the officers and directors of the Woman's State Relief Corps was called by the president, Mrs. Sarah L. Pascal. Reports of the officers were read and accepted, showing seventy corps with a membership of 3,726. The treasurer reported the amount expended for charity, $1,010.75 for the year 1895; cash on hand in subordinate corps, $9,600.00. The meeting adjourned to meet at Knights of Pythias Hall at 2.30 P. M. today.

The encampment will begin to-day at 2 P. M. at City Hall which has been handsomely decorated with flags. In the evening a reception will be given for National Commander Ivan F. Walker, at City Hall.

Wednesday forenoon and afternoon the encampment will be continued and in the evening a campfire will be held with the programme published in Monday's WHIG.

The members of the City Government and Hamlin Rifles are invited to attend the campfire. Mr. Alexander M. Robinson, Jr., of B. H. Beale Post, of this city, will act as toastmaster.

The galleries and such portions of the hall not occupied by the comrades and ladies of the Relief Corps, will be open to the public both this and Wednesday evenings.

The W. R. C.

The administrative council of the Department of Maine, Women's National Relief Corps, held a session last evening, considering several matters of routine business. All of the officers of the department are here as follows: President, M. Antoinette Millett, Gorham; senior vice-president, Belle J. Palmer, Monroe; junior vice-president, Nancy J. Colby, Rumford Center; treasurer, Rosa L. Burnell, Gorham; secretary, Jennie B. Day, Gorham; chaplain, Lucy B. Mansell, Springvale; inspector, Hannah E. Small, Biddeford; counsellor, Ella Jordan Mason, Biddeford; instituting and installing officer, Annie Bryant Emerson, Dover. Others prominent in the work of the department are also present.

The following statistics of the department and its work will be of interest; Aggregate membership, 3,000—a gain of 387 during the past year; expended for relief, $2,280; expended Memorial Day, $700; to Posts, $400; amount expended for N. R. C. Home, Ohio, $85; number of soldiers and families assisted during the year, 300; relief fund on hand, $2,000; general fund, $2,800; corps property, $4,000; department general fund, $150.

A large delegation of the Woman's National Relief Corps have arrived in the city and are represented at each hotel in town. Among others are Past Department Presidents Luzetta A. Small, Grace E. Howe, Clara B. Leavitt, Mary E. Inman, Ella J. Mason; National President, Lizabeth A. Turner, of Boston, and members of her staff have also arrived.

Demurrer Filed.

Hutchings & Hutchings, attorneys for Game Warden Jonathan Darling, have filed a special demurrer to the complaint upon which Darling was recently sentenced to three months in jail by Judge Vose, in the Municipal Court.

On January 28, Darling was arraigned before Judge Vose, charged with misconduct in office. This misconduct was alleged to consist in the acceptance of a bribe from four men who had violated the fishing laws of the State, which bribe was suggested, as to its amount, by Darling himself, and which apparently secured the offenders from his prosecution as a game warden.

It was alleged that Darling accepted the sum of $20 from the men, and that the case was heard of no more.

Darling waived examination at the hearing on a plea of "not guilty," and was sentenced to three months in jail. He got bail and appealed the case to the Supreme Court.

At the present February term of court, Col. Jasper Hutchings filed a motion to have the complaint quashed on the ground that it was insufficient in form and substance. At the hearing it was suggested that instead of a motion to quash, Darling's attorneys file a demurrer, with the right to be heard upon the merits of the case in the event of a judgment against the respondent in the matter of said demurrer.

The demurrer has accordingly been filed.

Mr. C. L. Hackett, of Patten, was in the city yesterday.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Humanity."

The Elks as a vehicle for their annual benefit made no mistake when they selected the strong melodrama "Humanity" which was presented at the Opera House last night before a large and much pleased audience. For a half hour previous to the performance an orchestra of ten pieces, led by Dr. Oscar E. Wasgatt, played an excellent programme of melodious music with skill and finish, which prepared a pleasing way for the play.

"Humanity" abounds in strong situations and is on a higher plane than the ordinary melodrama with its heavy villains, blood and thunder. It is a good play, has an able cast of characters and a wealth of scenery, all of which go to make up a performance of melodrama containing a great deal worthy of praise.

A broadsword contest on horses is a unique feature on the stage, but it was well put on last night and received much applause. The trouble in the Transvaal, South Africa, at the present time, makes the scenes in the Transvaal given in "Humanity" of particular interest just now and that portion of the play was not the least attractive to the audience. The bomb explosion scene was particularly realistic. The play has five acts and in three of them are two scenes each.

Mr. Grismer's "Lieut. Bevis Cranbourne" was portrayed with the manly fervor and force characteristic of that sterling actor who never fails to make the most of every role which he undertakes.

Miss Davies played the role of "Alma Dunbar" charmingly and the character was an exceedingly satisfying one in every detail.

Among the support Mr. Kirkland, Mr. Williams, Mr. Haney, Mr. Livingstone, Miss Barrington and Miss Grey, and Mr. Ferguson had the prominent parts and did competent work.

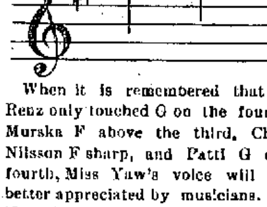
The concluding performance will be given to-night and another large audience will witness the interesting play.

After last evening's performance the members of the company were pleasingly entertained at a reception given at the Elks' rooms. Music, recitals and refreshments made the occasion a very enjoyable one to all present.

The benefit will be a success both as regards the amount to be cleared and the pleasure produced by the play.

A Musical Marvel.

Such great interest has been manifested throughout the country concerning the remarkable talents of Miss Yaw, the charming young California soprano, that we publish herewith an interesting illustration of her highest note in comparison with the highest notes of two famous prima donnas:



When it is remembered that Cassie Renz only touched G on the fourth, Di Murska F above the third, Christine Nilsson F sharp, and Patti G on the fourth, Miss Yaw's voice will be the better appreciated by musicians. When Nilsson sang the high F sharp in Mozart's "Magic Flute," her listeners fairly labored between rapture and hysteria. Miss Yaw sings high F sharp without the slightest effort, and sustains the note with the sweetest quality. If any have supposed that Miss Yaw, with her marvelous range, is merely a musical freak, they are very much mistaken. Her voice throughout its entire range is said to be sweet, expressive and sympathetic.

The sale of seats for the Bangor concert tomorrow night will open at the Opera House box office this morning.

Friday's Concert at City Hall.

The concert to be given at City Hall Friday evening will doubtless be attended by a large number, for the management will present a pleasing array of artists. Miss Bertha Webb, the violinist, Mrs. Jeanie King Morrison, Portland's favorite soprano, Hatch & Skillings, the amateur artists in a number of specialties and the child vocalist, Miss Carrie White, will appear. The price of reserved seats has been placed at the low figure of 35 cents and the sale of the same will open at the box office at City Hall on Wednesday morning.

"Faust."

On Thursday and Friday at the Opera House Mr. Joseph Callahan's spectacular production of "Faust" will be produced with magnificent scenery and a strong company of reputable players with two quartettes, male and female soloists, it is promised.

The Spring Hats

Always come in a few days before your winter hat has served its time; that gives you a chance to get acquainted with them before you go into partnership for the season. The right sort of a hat will do a good deal for a man that no other kind of a hat CAN do. We're particular as to the sort of hats we buy; it's buying good hats that we have been able to build up a bigger hat business. It's a safe thing to do any time to turn your head loose in our Hattery; you'll come out a head by it (provided you buy it). It's an occasional difference of a few pennies in that way that keeps our Hat Business on top.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury.

The following is the full text of the verdict of the jury in the coroner's inquest held to determine how Joseph Albert met his death, as it was signed and sealed Monday:

At an inquest held at Oldtown, in the county of Penobscot, begun on the 8th day of February, 1896, and concluded on the 15th day of February, 1896, to which last date it was adjourned, before H. Lancaster, one of the coroners of said county, upon view of the body of Joseph Albert there lying dead, by the oaths of F. J. Whiting, J. H. Beaulieu, J. H. Morrison, F. C. Dubay, H. F. Gibbons and Frank Taylor, good and lawful men, who being charged and sworn to inquire for the State, when, how and by what means said Joseph Albert came to his death, upon their oaths say:

That the said Joseph Albert came to his death on the 7th day of February, 1896, at the house of Valet Michaud on Treat & Webster's island in said Oldtown by means of a bullet or bullets discharged from a revolver in the hand of Charles H. Dolliff.

The jurors on their oaths further find that the said Charles H. Dolliff was induced by the deceased to accompany him and others to the house of the said Valet Michaud, the same being a house resorted to for the purpose of drinking and other vices, the said Dolliff being a stranger to all parties, and when about to leave the house he was assaulted by the said Joseph Albert, and that during the assault he discharged the revolver at least three times, the first shot being fired upward into the ceiling, and two shots taking effect in the body of the said Joseph Albert, one or both of which caused death.

Snatched His Watch.

One of the G. A. R. comrades who is attending the encampment while on Main street last evening, was approached by a young man who asked him the time. When he took his gold watch from his pocket the young man snatched it and ran down May street. He was followed by the owner of the watch a short distance, but escaped. The loss was reported at the police station. The only description that the owner could give was that the young man was fat, had a smooth face and wore a light ulster. At last accounts the thief had not been captured. It was a bold affair and it has been many a day since such an attempt upon the streets of Bangor has been made.

During the past 24 hours, says Saturday's Waterville Mail, between 60 and 70 cars of freight have passed through this city by special trains, bound for places east, and most of it for sections east of Bangor. This is an unusual occurence, for while special trains west are frequent the crews running the trains almost always return light. Just now there seems to be a general rush of freight both east and west.

Mr. C. H. Hooper, of Castine, is in the city attending the G. A. R. encampment.

Rev. P. H. Reardon, of Benedicta, arrived in the city Monday for a short visit.

Miss Sadie Nash, of Portland, is in the city, the guest of Mrs. George E. McMunn.
